BOYER REPORT SIDEBARS

Boyer Report Sidebars

As requested by committee members, these exemplars from the Boyer Report were highlighted to provide more information about higher education innovations in undergraduate programming.

Aggie Launch

Career Exploration at UC Davis

- Aggie Launch is an initiative to make career exploration and preparation accessible to all students as a matter of equity and social justice
- Every UC Davis Student will have the opportunity to:

access multiple forms of structured experiential learning

explore career-
related questions
with a mentor

apply for employment, graduate/professional school, service & fellowships

- Aggie Square is an innovative district where students will collaborate with industry partners in emerging areas of technology and life sciences

Texas Career Engagement

Career preparation at University of Texas at Austin (UT Austin)

- Texas Career Engagement is UT Austin's career center that provides resources for faculty to integrate career readiness into their work with students
- Resources are centered around the 8 competencies identified by the National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE):

- Career & self-development
- Communication
- Critical thinking
- Equity & Inclusion
- Leadership
- Professionalism
- Teamwork
- Technology

The Edge

Taking HIPs to Scale at University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP)

- The Edge aims to develop students' talents, strengths, and dreams through High-Impact Practices
- The 2016 UTEP Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) embedded high-impact learning and professional development activities throughout the curriculum

- First-Year Experience
- Student Employment & Leadership
- Undergraduate Research & Creative Activity
- Learning Communities
- Internship & Practicum
- Study Abroad/Study Away
- Community Engagement & Service Learning
- Capstone Experience

Student Experience Project (SEP)

- SEP is a national collaborative network of public universities and scholars dedicated to improving the college experience for all students
- SEP uses evidence-based practices to create an equitable learning environment and foster belonging, trust, and self-efficacy in students
- SEP has produced positive results in course persistence and grades, especially for undergraduates from structurally disadvantaged groups
- UCLA is piloting an SEP “community of practice” cohort this academic year

The Hub

Redesigning GE at Boston University

- The Hub helps students to develop “six essential capacities” to prepare them for a lifetime of learning and leading
- Each of the six capacities is made up of multiple “areas of learning”
- Courses can satisfy multiple requirements & fulfill requirements for majors and minors

HUB REQUIREMENTS

26 requirements in approximately 10-12 courses | Hub courses can also count toward majors and minors

In the Hub, you will gain a breadth of knowledge and essential skills for your future.

THE BU HUB

BU Hub Goals & Intentions

All undergraduate students develop six essential capacities that:

- expose students to a broad range of knowledge and disciplines
- cultivate a set of widely applicable habits of mind
- equip students to engage with complexity, diversity, and change
- develop the ability to apply knowledge in diverse settings
- encourage a sense of social responsibility and engaged citizenship

In addition to developing these capacities, the BU Hub creates a distinctive educational experience that:

- fosters intellectual exploration by encouraging students to take courses in schools and colleges across the University
- promotes cross-disciplinary and interdisciplinary thinking by allowing students to work across—and bring together—multiple fields of knowledge
- allows students to create their own pathways while pursuing their interests
- is interwoven throughout a student's undergraduate education

In addition to developing these capacities, the BU Hub creates a distinctive educational experience that (continued):

- allows students to create stronger personal and intellectual connections with other students and faculty across the University
- provides innovative educational opportunities for students, including the Cross-College Challenge (XCC) and cocurricular learning experiences
- draws upon the rich array of opportunities afforded by the city of Boston, a major international center, in such fields as technology, the arts, health sciences, communication, finance, and education
